

A CAUTION,

Against the Lie of the Day.

WHEREAS the Party in Opposition to LORD HOOD, in their Canvas, have been base enough to have Recourse to the most contemptible Electioneering Manœuvre, in daring to insinuate that his Lordship means to decline the Canvas; this is most confidently to assure his Lordship's Friends, that it is the mere Lie of the Day, his Lordship being determined to continue the POLL to the last Hour prescribed by Act of Parliament, in fullest Confidence, that his Perseverance and the Exertion of his Friends, cannot fail of crowning him with the most flattering Success.
